

Israel-U.S. Cross Border

The "start-up nation" of Israel is a growing network of companies focused on capitalizing on global market opportunities, including entering or expanding in the U.S. market. To do so successfully requires a law firm with sophisticated expertise to ensure compliance in various legal areas, including regulatory and compliance litigation, tax, employment, and finance.

Lippes Mathias' multi-disciplinary Israel-U.S. Cross Border Practice Team guides Israeli companies and individuals with existing U.S. operations and seeks to establish commercial opportunities in the United States.

Our attorneys provide direction to successfully navigate the complex laws and government regulations that apply in the United States. Our Israel-U.S. Cross Border Practice Team is led by Dennis C. Vacco, the former New York State Attorney General, Partner, and Team Leader of the firm's Government & State Attorneys General Investigations practice.

With offices strategically located throughout New York, Washington, D.C., Florida, Illinois, and Canada, our attorneys regularly advise on international legal issues relating to:

- Corporate & Securities
- E-Commerce
- Government and State Attorneys General Investigations
- Immigration
- Labor & Employment
- Public Law & Policy
- Real Estate
- Regulatory & Compliance

Through our firm's strategic relationship with Tel-Aviv-based law firm Kan-Tor & Acco, Lippes Mathias has developed an extensive network of accounting, consulting, and political relationships throughout Israel. Through these affiliations, our attorneys have a comprehensive understanding of the Israeli marketplace to identify and
