

Carol E. Heckman, Partner, Lippes Mathias Wexler Friedman LLP, Presenting at Erie Institute of Law Lecture on Dispute Resolution Clauses

September 26, 2017 | PRESS RELEASES

BUFFALO, NY – Carol E. Heckman, a partner at Lippes Mathias Wexler Friedman LLP, is the presenter at Erie Institute of Law’s upcoming lecture, “Drafting Dispute Resolution Clauses” on November 7, 2017 at 1 p.m. at the Bar Association of Erie County. The presentation provides an overview of the most important issues that should be considered in drafting a well-constructed dispute resolution clause. In addition, Ms. Heckman will also cover the rapidly evolving legal framework that applies when the clauses come under fire.

The Erie Institute of Law is the education arm of the Bar Association of Erie County. Its mission is to plan Continuing Legal Education program opportunities to meet the professional education needs of lawyers in the Western New York community. To register for the lecture, visit eriebar.org.

With nearly 40 years of experience as a trial and appellate attorney Judge Heckman (Ret.) concentrates her legal practice at Lippes Mathias Wexler Friedman LLP on government investigations and enforcement actions, arbitrations and mediations, commercial litigation, and Native American Law.
