

ESG; Emerging Compliance Requirements and Avoiding Investigations & Enforcement Action Webinar | Tuesday, May 24

May 5, 2022 | EVENTS

Is your business ready? Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) is much more than corporate policy. Statutory and regulatory mandates will eventually establish a standard for what ESG must involve. As is the case with any policy initiative that allows companies to increase market share and brand value, regulators will be poised to conduct investigations and enforcement actions where businesses make false ESG claims. These enforcement actions will be the consequence of State and Federal government regulations which will require companies to meet related goals and to report compliance.

Join our panel discussion to learn about the legal risks and concerns for your business strategy, operations, and policies.
