Press Release

July 15, 2025 | PRESS RELEASES

Lippes Mathias today announced that Amy Habib Rittling, the firm's chief legal officer and leader of its employment practice team, has been ranked No. 47 by Buffalo Business First on the publication's 2025 Power 200 Women list. This is Habib Rittling's seventh time receiving the recognition, which highlights the influential women driving progress and shaping the future of Western New York.

About Amy Habib Rittling

Amy Habib Rittling concentrates her practice in employment and general business law and litigation. Her employment law experience includes counseling and advising employers on all aspects of employment relationships, practices, and policies. She also regularly assists employers with workplace investigations and self-audits. Habib Rittling also represents employers before administrative agencies, including the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the New York State Division of Human Rights, the U.S. Department of Labor, the New York State Department of Labor, and other various state and local employment agencies. She frequently defends clients in legal claims involving discrimination, harassment, wrongful termination, state and federal wage and hour laws, the Family and Medical Leave Act, and the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Habib Rittling also frequently serves as a mediator and has mediated and facilitated the resolution of employment law claims and disputes. Habib Rittling also counsels independent schools in all areas of school law and compliance issues. Before returning to Buffalo, Habib Rittling served as special assistant to Commissioner Leslie E. Silverman of the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.
