

Lippes Mathias Welcomes Emily E. Uhlig to its Growing Litigation Team

July 15, 2024 | PRESS RELEASES

Lippes Mathias today announced that it has added Emily E. Uhlig as an associate on its litigation practice team. Uhlig advises clients ranging from global leaders to individual and family businesses in a range of industries, tailoring her strategy and approach to each client to yield the best results. She has experience litigating complex commercial disputes in New York state and federal courts, including licensing, employment, construction, and commercial and residential real estate contracts.

She is experienced in all stages of litigation and overall case management, including preparing complaints and motions, conducting legal research, coordinating discovery, and negotiating settlements and appeals. Among her skills is managing complex electronic discovery, including developing and implementing electronically stored information protocols and coordinating multi-faceted document reviews for large-scale document productions.

Uhlig earned her J.D. from the University of California College of Law, San Francisco (formerly UC Hastings), in 2019. During law school, she worked in an intellectual property clinical program, guiding biotechnology startups through the early stages of the intellectual property legal process. She also competed on the UC Hastings Moot Court team and worked as a legal assistant before attending law school. She holds a B.S. from Washington State University, obtained in 2014.

Uhlig is actively involved in several professional associations. She is a Monroe County Bar Association member and was an inaugural participant in its leadership academy in 2023. She also served as a Litigation Council Member from 2021 to 2023. Additionally, Uhlig is a co-chair of the Greater Rochester Association for Women Attorneys, where she served from 2021 to 2023, and is a member of the New York State Bar Association.
