

Managing Partner Scott E. Friedman Speaks on Family Business at Columbia University

May 2, 2014 | PRESS RELEASES

Lippes Mathias Wexler Friedman LLP Managing Partner and Next-Gen Advisors Founding Principal Scott E. Friedman was a guest at Columbia University on May 1 where he gave a presentation on Family Business titled: Healthy Business/Happy Families: A Proposed Unifying Theory for Family Businesses.

He shared the knowledge he has gained over the last three decades spent studying family business dynamics and working with families on the unique and often complex issues facing family business owners.

In addition to authoring five books on the subject of family business, Scott is regularly quoted both regionally and nationally by the media for stories addressing family business issues. He is often invited to speak at universities and seminars, and has written numerous articles on the subject of positive psychology and family business planning.
