

New Immigration Executive Order Targeting H-1Bs and L-1s?

By Andrew M. Wilson

June 8, 2020 | IMMIGRATION

Speculation continues to persist that we may see a new Immigration Executive Order as soon as June 11th. The content of this new proclamation could entail restrictions on H-1B and L-1 categories, including a suspension of entry for anyone in these categories for at least 90 days.

Separate from the new proclamation, we can also expect a renewed urgency to target H-4 EADs and STEM OPT extensions.

It is important to remember though that any unilateral attempt to circumvent our immigration statutes and regulations will likely be challenged in court. We have immigration laws in place for at least some stability and certainty. It should not be a roller coaster ride of Executive Orders from administration to administration shaping our immigration system.

Related Team

Andrew M. Wilson
Partner | Chief
Advisory Officer |
Team Co-Leader -
Immigration

Nisha V. Fontaine (Jagtiani)
Partner

Elizabeth M. Klarin
Partner

Eileen M. Martin
Partner | Team Co-
Leader - Immigration
| Team Leader -
Canada-U.S. Cross
Border

Disclaimer: The information in this post is provided for general informational purposes only, and may not reflect the current law in your jurisdiction. No information contained in this post should be construed as legal advice from our firm or the individual author, nor is it intended to be a substitute for legal counsel on any subject matter. No reader of this post should act or refrain from acting on the basis of any information included in, or accessible through, this post without seeking the appropriate legal or other professional advice on the particular facts and circumstances at issue from a lawyer licensed in the recipient's state, country or other appropriate licensing jurisdiction.