Jay Organek is a member of Lippes Mathias' Trusts & Estates Team. Jay's practice includes domestic and international estate and trust planning, estate administration, estate litigation, multi-generational tax planning, retroactive IRS compliance, and tax guidance on the acquisition or transfer of cross-border real property.

Estate matters often give rise to complex legal and emotional issues. Approaching these issues requires knowledge of the law and an understanding of client goals. Whether crafting a multi-generational tax plan or devising a strategy in a heavily contested estate, Jay communicates every potential outcome to his clients and works diligently to accomplish their objectives.

Jay has extensive experience assisting U.S. and Canadian citizens with tax and legacy matters. This experience allows Jay to simplify and translate complex legal issues, enabling his clients to make informed decisions. Having worked with estate planning law firms in the U.S. and Canada, Jay brings an international perspective to his practice. Jay's experience, knowledge, and open communication allow his clients to relax and enjoy their time at home and abroad.
